I have a 2010, SE, 4 cylinder, automatic. I recently traded a 2003 Camry for this one. I had an A/C issue with the 2003 that turned out to be the relay and was able to easily make that repair thanks to this forum. Now, my 2010 is having issues. The A/C often works normally and blows cold when I start the car for the first time on any given day.
